

The Adair County News.

VOLUME XIII

COLUMBIA, ADAIR COUNTY, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY MARCH 16, 1910.

NUMBER 19

Elison-McFarland.

Last Thursday afternoon, Mr. Leslie McFarland, son of Mr. Solomon McFarland, and Miss Virginia Ellison, daughter of Mr. Nathan Ellison, who lives near Mt. Carmel, drove into Columbia and to the residence of Rev. L. Tally where they were happily married. The couple were accompanied by Mr. John Biggs and Miss Maud Ellison. Soon after the ceremony the couple left for the home of the groom's father where an elegant dinner was spread and where a number of friends had gathered to greet them.

The groom is an industrious farmer and stands high in the community in which he lives. The bride is one of Adair county's best young ladies.

Halley's Comet Visible.

Halley's comet may now be seen on nights when conditions are favorable with the aid of an ordinary fieldglass, according to members of the astronomical faculty at Columbia University. The most favorable time to look for it is between 6:30 and 7:30 p. m., with the glass elevated somewhat above the point where the sun sets. The comet is at present in what the astronomers call the 'twilight region.' It is in line with the sun and its brightness is therefore dimmed. It will be visible all through April and May, but at its maximum brilliancy on May 18.

When the comet is nearest the earth it will be only about 14,000,000 miles away.

Mr. A. B. Eggh, of Athertonville, has been appointed Deputy Collector for the 5th Kentucky Revenue district, headquartered at Lebanon. It is the position formerly filled by Mr. J. H. Judd, of this place. Mr. Lynch has been a storekeeper and general for ten years. He has assumed the duties of the office.

Mr. Charles Pendleton, a young man about twenty-five years old, died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Pendleton, one mile from Knifley, Tuesday night of last week. He was a victim of consumption and had been sick for several months. He was a young man who had many friends.

The attention of our readers is called to the fact of the Columbia Bottling Company, Mr. T. C. O'Leary, who is the manager, is making a number of fine soft drinks. His Coca-Cola has become quite popular, all the grocery stores handling it. Try a bottle. It is harmless and refreshing.

Aaron Bread was before Judge Moss last Saturday, two cases, charged with selling liquor. In one he was fined sixty dollars and ten days imprisonment, and in the other he was fined sixty dollars. He will probably pay the fines in jail.

"Uncle" Flem S. Carter, who lives near Eads, was one hundred years old last Friday, the 11th day of March. He is hale and hearty. He has one sister, Mrs. Acree, living in this county, who is either 16 or 55 years of age. She, too, is enjoying fine health.

Dr. S. D. Crenshaw sold his farm, on Disappointment, last week, to Mr. Tom Waggoner, for $1,000.

The James Boys.

"The James Boys in Missouri" drew a immense crowd to the court auditorium last Saturday evening, every seat being filled. It is a play mastered by Cane Valley talent, each actor rendering his or her part in a faultless manner. All of the male members were dressed as outlaws, each act giving a fair picture of western life. Bingham Moore made a fine Jesse James and Mrs. Tom Moore, who acted the part of Jesse's wife, played her part to perfection. T. L. Smith, as Bob Ford, killed his old friend and comrade Jesse James. There were many other exciting scenes, each performer deserving special notice, but their names are not before us. The singing of the minstrels was very much enjoyed and the two songs rendered by a little daughter and little son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Moore, were highly appreciated. Mr. W. W. Kerr, who is the manager, in behalf of the entire aggregation, desires to return his sincere thanks to the people of Columbia for their liberal patronage and excellent attention. The receipts of the evening, $79.25.

Be sure and attend Dr. Crenshaw's sale, next Saturday.

The operation was very successful, twenty-five or thirty years of different sizes, removed. Since the operation the family has heard from the patient every few hours, all reports being favorable. Death of Mrs. Sarah C. Calhoun.

Mrs. Sarah C. Calhoun, wife of John C. Calhoun, died at her home near Campbellville, Ky., March 6. She had been in feeble health for ten years or more, but was not confined to her bed but a few weeks before her departure. She was born and reared in Adair county and spent nearly all her life in said county, having moved to Taylor county about the middle of last December. She was the mother of seven children, six of whom still live to mourn their loss.

She was a good Christian woman, a faithful loving wife and a very kind and devoted mother. So far as I know she was loved by all who knew her, and many were made better by her noble Christian life. She was triumphant in death, as there was nothing in her way, and I believe she has gone to a better world.

She was laid to rest in the cemetery at Campbellville, after a brief funeral service at her residence, conducted by the writer, assisted by Rev. J. H. Walker. She was sixty three years old and had been a member of the Methodist Church about thirty years. May the going away of the wife and mother serve to bind the husband and children closer to God. Is the Wheat Crop Failing.

The new inquires in the Federal Census concerning wheat are expected to reveal the immense progress made in this great crop. Fears that the supply will not keep pace with the demand have agitated the public from time to time, but in late years great areas have been added to the wheat acreage through the introduction of new varieties of wheat which were adapted to soil and climatic conditions. This is particularly true of winter wheat, which is to be listed separately from common spring. Campbell's epoch-making efforts in behalf of dry farming in connection with the introduction of Durum wheat, promises to turn the semi-arid region, covering millions of square miles, into one of the most prosperous sections in the world. Emmer and spelt varieties are playing an important role in helping to get wheat of great drought and rust-resisting power. Therefore it becomes important to take account of them in the coming agricultural census.

An Honest Confession.

Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, the acknowledged head and shaper of legislation for the Republican party for the past decade, in a speech in the Senate admitted that a business man could effect an annual saving of $300,000,000 in the expenses of the government. It is said that the Senator's Republican colleagues looked at him in amazement. His declaration that $300,000,000 of the people's money is annually wasted by a Republican Congress, of which he himself is a recognized leader, created something of a sensation among Congressmen, but the people have known for a long time that they were being beautifully and systematically worked and their pockets emptied for the benefit of a chosen few, but they really did not expect such an admission from Nelson B. Aldrich.

The Pennsylvania railroad has acquired sufficient stock of the Norfolk & Western Railway to give it absolute control of the road.

The Confederate Pension Bill.

It is possible that the lobbyists and corruptionists at Frankfort—commonly known as The Third House—will loosen their grip on the Senate long enough for it to pass the Confederate pension bill. It has already passed the House. The bill provides $12 monthly for Confederate soldiers who do not own over $2,500 worth of property, either in their own or in their wives' names, or who have not an income free of incumbrance of over $500 a year. It is estimated that about 2,000 Confederate veterans in Kentucky may avail themselves of the benefits of this act.

The bill ought to become a law, and probably will. The old soldiers are passing as the snow in the sun, and what ever is done for them must be done now.—Glasgow Times.

Qualifications of Jurors.

A judge out in Missouri has taken a position on the qualifications of jurors that should appeal to laymen and attorneys alike, even if it does mark a rather radical departure from the methods of procedure that have been followed for many years. In the trial of a case one of the attorneys, with the evident intention of challenging a juror, asked the familiar question whether the talsman had read accounts of the case in the newspapers. "What's the difference if he has read the newspapers?" demanded the judge. "He'll make the better jurymen, To say that a may ought not to serve because he has read the newspaper accounts is saying in effect that a jury of intelligence is objected to. That is not justice, neither is it law."

Liberty.

Editor Notes:

After eight hours of hard and tedious driving I arrived in the hospitable little capital of Casey county, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon of March 5th. The roads from Columbia to Dunnville were something fearful, if I may use that term, and a great many times the buggy axles would almost drag in the mud, and while driving along in a "snails crawl" as it were, I was reminded of the great amount of wind and money that is expended each year in the state of Kentucky for good roads with very little permanent and lasting results.

Adair county is one of the counties that needs a system of road improvement which will be substantial and worth something to the citizens and taxpayers of the county, and instead of banking up a lot of loose earth in the center of the roads only to become mud holes in wet weather, crushed rock and gravel are needed to make a road that will stand the wear and tear of heavy hauling.

It is not supposed that my suggestions along these lines will be heeded because there are men who will make it appear that they know it all with reference to good roads, and possibly they do not travel over 20 miles of road in the county during a whole year. But I was only making a suggestion from the conditions which came under my observation along the first twenty miles of my trip to this place, and that territory is nearly all in Adair county. The road from Dunnville to Liberty is excellent, being a pike made of gravel and the grade is far above the average considering the country through which it runs.

From what I have seen of the town, Liberty, (although quite ancient in some of its buildings) is one of the best little inland towns in this section of the state. The people are kind and courteous and they use every effort to make a stranger feel at home in their midst.

The town has three churches, two Hotels, a fine graded school, brass band, skating rink and a number of handsome and substantial business houses, and a court house that is said to have cost forty thousand dollars.

Business seems to be good in all lines and everything is on the go, from all indications. There are two daily mails from Liberty to Moreland Station and return. One by hack which carries the express also, the other by private conveyance. One mail arrives at noon and departs at 1 p. m., the other departs at 5 a. m. and arrives at 5 p. m. All mail coming to Liberty is brought via the Cincinnati Southern trains.

Possibly a great many of the readers of the News already know more about Liberty and Casey county than I do so I will close for the present.

I met Mr. T. C. Davidson and wife Sunday, they are both well and seem to be enjoying life.

TO-DAY.

Why should we leave tomorrow needs,
For it belongs to God;
The thins no more can pierce out feet
O'er the backward path we've trod,
The sun that beams on us to-day
Will pass away when nature's light
Our weary eyes may close in death
Ere another day's decline.
The toil, the care, the pain, the woe
That seems to weigh us down,
The passing smile of transient joy
That changes to a frown,
Will pass away when nature's balm
Of sleep is on us laid;
Tomorrow may bring greater rest
Than for which today we've prayed.
Why should we weep Oh! human kind
Why should ye e'er complain,
Why ye rebel against your lot
When it is all in vain.
Why curse God and nature too
Your own misdeed hath caused your pain,
Your sin hath made you moan.
To-day is but a passing flash
Of light across the sky,
It takes a breath, 70 years to live
It takes a day to die.
A thousand years are all too short
To make amends to God!
But we live a day and then we sleep
An age beneath the sod.
Just for today then make your vows
Good things to do and say,
Tomorrow may not find you here
Ye who are here to-day.
Just for today then live your life
To-morrow lies too far,
To set your feet upon its strand
Or watch its rising star.
Kings, princes, dukes, and lords can claim,
No life but just to-day
For ere tomorrow come each one
May sleep beneath the clay,
Or human kind why should you care
Why should you watch and weep,
Tomorrow may not come to night
May bring eternal sleep.

The Louisville "Ripper Bill."

The near approach to the end of the sixty-day limit causes uneasiness to the majority for fear some of the most desirable measures may fail to pass in time to reach the Governor and get back to be acted upon should he veto them.

So the Committee on rules has taken matters in hand and is "whooping things up."

It is known that the Governor is opposed to what is known as the "Ripper bill," by which the office of City Attorney of Louisville is to be abolished and a co-operative council, who shall be in harmony with the Mayor, substituted, and it is not doubted that he will veto it. If the bill is passed right away and is vetoed, it will come back and can be passed over the veto. Otherwise it would be killed by a veto for this session.—Farmers Home Journal.

What Cold Storage Means.

In Cleveland, where the first meat boycott was started, it is said that over 50,000 signed the pledge to abstain from eating meat for thirty days. These people will ask the Legislature to pass a bill to penalize the retaining of food in cold storage for longer than one month. In this connection a reporter for the New York World gained admittance to one of the largest cold storage plants in New York and found records of food stuffs kept as long as two years or more, such as fish, poultry, eggs, fruits, and meats. Eggs, in some cases, were five years old, and originally had been imported from China. It is estimated that one entire beef carcass for each adult in the country is held in cold storage.

Pheasants.

A movement is on foot in Scott county to secure the names of one hundred farmers who will subscribe $5 each for the purpose of sending to Hungary and purchasing 500 Hungarian pheasants, which are to be turned loose on their farms. It is proposed to protect these birds for four or five years and then form rules governing their shooting. They are about twice as large as our native partridges, are not migratory and multiply with astonishing rapidity. There are several coveys of these birds in the Payne's Depot neighborhood and they are thriving splendidly. About sixty men have agreed to the plan. Why cannot some one in Mercer county take up this matter and bring an importation to this county at the same time?—Harrodsburg Herald.

Corn Cobs for Pipes.

Probably not one smoker in a hundred who likes the "real American Pipe"—the corn-cob—is aware of the fact that many areas in Ohio, Illinois, Missouri and Nebraska are devoted to raising corn for the especial purpose of producing cobs suitable for fashioning into pipe bowls. The grain itself is marketed, of course, but the cob on which it grows is the real harvest, and is cut carefully into proper lengths smoothed and polished, the soft inner pulp being gouged out by special machinery. It is possible to buy a set of corn-cob pipes in a nest of six, with an amber mouth-piece, mounted in silver, that will cost $7.50. The growing of corn for cob-pipe purposes and the manufacturer of the pipes by machinery, are the occupation of one of the Tobacco Trust experts.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Farm Notes.

Time lost by the hens will soon be made up if conditions are favorable.

The hen with a frozen comb is a non-producer.

Poultry houses so long as to create drafts are not to be recommended.

Dampness in the poultry house, yards or runs is often a source of trouble.

Lack of charcoal, grit, green and animal foods in sufficient quantities spells failure.

Lack of a constant supply of clean, pure fresh water before the fowls means defeat in the end.

Too exposed, too low, or too warm a location for a poultry plant is a frequent cause of disaster.

Have you culled out all the unprofitable birds? If not, do it at once and give the others a chance.

A feed of finely-chopped onions, once a week, is a tonic that helps to keep broilers lively and healthy.

It is claimed that sheep fed a small quantity of flaxseed once a week are not likely to suffer with colic.

Again we mention water, it is needed by the hens plenty of it, when they are fed mostly dry grains.

The best incubator can not be named since some are better in certain respects and some in others.

Chickens, like sheep, do best when their feet and backs are kept dry.

Do not give horses water immediately after eating. An hour after they have finished their meal is soon enough to water them.

Some horses are predisposed to colic and a straw and corn diet is almost sure to cause trouble at frequent intervals with such cases.

In order to get a strain of blood established, it is not only necessary to breed in line, but to select and breed the choicest standard birds each year.

There is enough lime in 100 pounds of clover for 200 eggs with a substantial shell it is claimed by good poultry authority.

Every one has his favorite among the many breeds of poultry. And each breed has certain points in its favor not possessed by the other.

A good currying occasionally does not make a sleek horse. It takes everyday grooming to open the pores, soften the skin and produce a good healthy, sleek coat.

Give the hen that takes a notion to become broody this early in the season a little time to become established before giving her eggs. She is very apt to change her mind at this time.

There seems to be an intimate connection between the price of corn and of hogs and the intelligent farmer will weigh these prices carefully before deciding to cut out hogs and sell corn.

The eggs from very fat turkey hens will not hatch so well, and they are apt to be soft shelled. So be careful and not feed corn too heavily during the winter.

The better the food you give your hens the better and more wholesome will be the eggs. Some folks who consider any old stuff that spoils about the house good enough for the hens perhaps have never thought of this.

There is no better butter anywhere than that turned out from the home dairy in the old fashioned way, with all the conditions right. At present prices it pays to see to it that they are right.

How Good News Spreads.

"I am 70 years old and travel most of the time," writes B. F. Tolson, of Elizabethtown, Ky. "Everywhere I go I recommend Electric Bitters, because I owe my excellent health and vitality to them. They effect a cure every time." They never fail to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver, invigorate the nerves and purify the blood. They work wonders for weak, run-down men and women, restoring strength, vigor and health that's a daily joy. Try them. Only 60c. Satisfaction is positively guaranteed by Paul Drug Co.

Costs More to Die.

February 17.—It even costs you more to die these days. Ten years ago, you could contract a nice case of fever, go to a hospital, receive medical attention, be nursed, die and be buried for about $150. Now since the trusts, aided and abetted by the tariff, have pushed up the price of everything, it will cost you about $200 or $225 to die and be buried. The trusts are making money out of the increase in the price of death and burial, if what Kansas City doctors, nurses and undertakers say is correct. Coffins and graves have increased in price almost 50 per cent in the last ten years. Lumber, silk, imported woods and other articles, many of them imported, have almost trebled in price because of the tariff. Undertakers say the trusts are reaping a rich harvest in dollars because of the increased cost of living, many nurses and physicians have boosted their scale of fees. A further increase is expected.—Kansas City Paper.

Free Dyspepsia Sample

Sufferers from indigestion are waking up to the fact that peppermint lozenges, charcoal and "dyspepsia cures" are only makeshifts in the cure of so troublesome a disease as chronic indigestion. What is required is something that will not only relieve but which will tone and train the digestive and assimilation organs so that they will do their work normally, and this these simple remedies cannot do.

There is something more to the cure of indigestion than sweetening the breath, and yet a remedy that only contains digestive ingredients will not cure permanently, as the basis of indigestion is poor blood circulation, and that requires a scientific laxative. We know of no remedy that combines these ingredients better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has been sold for a quarter of a century. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a laxative tonic, a scientific blending of natural ingredients for the cure of constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sour stomach, sick headache and similar complaints. Its ingredients are so strong and tone the stomach and bowel muscles that they will again do their work naturally, and when that has been accomplished your trouble is over. Fannie Stuart, Staunton, Va., was a long-time sufferer, at this was O. Tuck, Blackburn, Mo., and they both found their cure with this remedy. They became "dyspepsia cures," etc., were at best only a makeshift. Dr. Caldwell's offer of a free sample bottle, which he will send to anyone who forwards name and address. Later, free sample, they bought Syrup Pepsin at fifty cents at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for your family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels. Write him and he will reply to you in detail. Write to Dr. Caldwell, and your name and address on a postal card or envelope, and send it to the doctor's address in Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 1100 Caldwell Building, Monticello, Ill.

Joy for the Consumer.

One very excellent thing about the inquiry being made into the cost of living is that everyone with a grievance is eager to tell it. The farmer has his troubles, though he has been pictured as the only complacent person concerned. The commission men have a set of complaints almost as long as some of the railroads against which they charge extortion. The wholesaler and the retailer are angry at each other and at others with whom they have dealings.

There is nothing like a long-stemmed tide of wrongs to bring about the correction of evils. The anger of years is being aired. The unfairness is put on public exhibition. Favoritisms and petty gougings, business brigandage and commercial rapacity, are all being explained and put down in the minutes. If any evil practice escapes examination it will not be for want of willing witnesses.

It begins to look as if the ultimate consumer is to come into happier days.

Stubborn As Mules.

Adam County News

Published Every Wednesday

BY THE

Adam County News Company,
INCORPORATED.

CHAS. S. HARRIS Editor

Democratic newspaper devoted to the interests of the city of Columbia and the people of Adam and adjacent counties.

Entered at the Columbia Postoffice as second class matter.

WED., MAR. 16, 1910.

Hon. W. J. Price, who has been a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Eighth district, has withdrawn from the contest.

The Kentucky Legislature will adjourn to-day, (Wednesday) and the whole State is glad. It will go down in history as a body of men who met to disagree.

News comes to Columbia that there were only three men in the Kentucky Legislature who stood four square to every wind—Elzy Bertram, Claud Thomas and Jack Chinn.

Hon. Ben Johnson has been re-nominated for Congress from the Fourth district. The Committee of the district also recommended him as the Democratic candidate for Governor. It seems that in his effort to down Mr. Johnson, former Governor Beckham has a job on his hand.

A necktie entertainment with Sanford Love as the principal actor should be announced as quickly as possible. He called at the home of his fiance, Miss Lottie Murden, Marion, Ill., and shot her twice in the breast and once in the back as she turned from him. She died in a few hours. Eight years ago Love shot Miss Nora Miller to whom he was engaged. She recovered. Love has been permitted to live too long, and the quicker his neck is stretched, the better the country.

The Somerset Journal was twelve years old Tuesday, the 8th inst. It has been Democratic from the start, and notwithstanding it is published in the largest Republican county in the State, it has prospered from its first issue. Mr. Woodson May has edited the paper since the death of Mr. Campbell, proving himself to be a capable newspaper man. By the way, Mr. May is a probable candidate for the Democratic nomination for Clerk of the Court of Appeals and the selection of him would make a strong candidate.

There is not a doubt in the minds of the people as to the guilt of Mrs. Cudahy, the Kansas City Society woman, whose escapades with banker Jere Lillis, were reported last week. At the time the affair came to light the sympathy of the whole country was with Mr. Cudahy, notwithstanding he tied and slashed the disposer of his home in a horrible manner. Now comes the report that a reconciliation will be brought about, and that Mr. and Mrs. Cudahy will again live together. If that is a fact sympathy for the husband will vanish.

Some papers in the State are making a great deal of noise because the Legislature failed to pass certain measures, claiming that the Democratic party will be the loser. It is impossible for a legislative body to please everybody. If we could have had our way some bills that were rejected would have been passed, but because we did not get our desire in the matter, does not make us any less a Democrat. When the next State ticket is put out we will stamp under the rooster and let our vote go gallagah, and we believe all other good Democrats will do likewise.

Representative Government in Kentucky is seriously threatened when it comes to a point that, session after session, various members of the Legislature betray the sacred trust reposed in them. Many well-informed people now contend that representative government is a failure, and it must be admitted that the present session of the Legislature is at least no argument against the position they take. The condition that confronts us is of the grave nature, and, while by no means minimizing the importance of the county unit bill, that is by no means the real issue the action of the traitorous Senators has brought forth so prominently. Neither is the issue State-wide prohibition. It is merely a question of the practicability of government by the people—simply and solely the question whether the people can actually rule, or must be ruled by a set of men elected by their ballot and since marked with the brand of Judas.—Todd County Times.

Nervous Women

For nervous, tired women, we recommend Cardui. Cardui is a woman's medicine. It acts specifically on the female organs and has a tonic, building effect on the whole system. It contains no harmful ingredients, being a pure vegetable extract. If you suffer from some form of female trouble, get Cardui at once and give it a fair trial.

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

Mrs. W. W. Gardner, of Paducah, Ky., tried Cardui and writes: "I think Cardui is just grand. I have been using it for eleven years. I am 48 years old and feel like a different woman, since I have been taking it. I used to suffer from bearing down, ains, nervousness and sleeplessness, but now the pains are all gone and I sleep good. I highly recommend Cardui for young and old." Try it.

Gloom was cast thick and dark over our community when it was known that R. P. Smith had breathed his last. While his relatives and near neighbors expected this at any moment but many did not know he was so near the end of a life, once so full of promise. He has been our merchant for a number of years, had been very successful until his health began to fail and was unusually well liked by all. He belonged to F. and A. M. by which Fraternity he was laid to rest at Friendship Church. Another good man is gone—a good wife is left to mourn, two small children left orphans, but well provided for. Truly it is said man cometh forth like a flower but is cut down.

May the God of mercy help the aged widowed mother, the loving wife and brothers to bear the burden of sorrow placed upon them by the grim reaper who will sooner or later call us all.

FOR THE LANDS SAKE USE BOWKER FERTILIZER?

I have been selling the Old Bowker Brands for the past six years and my trade has increased from year to year, and this is evidence to me that the Bowker Fertilizer is the best made for this section. I have sold these goods to leading farmers all over the County, who have thoroughly tried and tested them, and will tell you Bowker Fertilizers are the best money can buy. You may buy goods for less money, but remember that cheap Fertilizers are very dear indeed when you come to harvest your crop. Remember that Bowker's Ky. Special and Tobacco Grower have an extra high per centage of Potash.

I will be at my old stand in due time for Spring Trade with a full supply of Bowker goods. Call and see me and get prices. I will also sell Homestead.
